

Have a heart – go easy on the pizza

The pizza industry stands accused of fuelling the obesity epidemic by promoting triple-meat options and crusts stuffed with extra cheese.

A Heart Foundation analysis found the average pizza contained more than five grams of salt and 20 grams of saturated fat. The finding comes as a small family-run pizza chain today becomes the first in the industry to receive a Heart Foundation tick for six menu choices.

► Report PAGE 3

